Purpose

The Community Development Corporation Resource Consortium was created for the purpose of uniting agencies and businesses West of the Miami River in order to:

- Leverage Available Resources
- Increase Capacity
- Gain access to additional non-traditional funding sources

Vision

To become a community-based vehicle providing collaborative opportunities to leverage available resources, create platforms for economic change and to provide supportive services for grassroots non-profits.

Mission

CDCRC Mission is to become a collaborative resource for:

- Community Development Corporations
- Non-Profits
- Churches
- Banks
- Small Business
- Realtors/Developers

The Community Development Corporation Resource Consortium (CDCRC) was created for the purpose of uniting agencies and businesses West of the Miami River in order to leverage available resources increase capacity and gain access to non-traditional funding sources.

The CDCRC has become a community-based vehicle that provides opportunities for collaboration among local grassroots agencies, businesses, churches and corporations. These collaborative efforts produce platforms for economic change and grassroots community development initiatives.

Community Development Corporations, Grassroots Non-profits, Churches, Banks, Small Businesses, Realtors and Developers are just a few organizations, which have gained benefits from CDCRC activities, resources and initiatives.
